

Alias Take Your Pick

A "Pick-a-Box" Show was held on the return voyage of the Transvaal Castle to the U.K. in November. With Purser John Dimmock assuming the role of Quiz-Master and 2nd Purser Michael Mears taking over as Comper, the passengers were asked to volunteer as contestants; after answering three questions correctly they were allowed to choose the key to a box, with the prospect of their (possibly!) winning a fabulous prize. The Purserettes, dressed in wigs for the occasion, encouraged the audience with the appropriate captions to "Clap," etc., and also sang commercials in between the different competitors. The whole evening's entertainment was voted a great success by audience and participants alike.
