

HOW MANY HEADS?

If you have never seen a life-boat filled to capacity take a look at this.

During boat drill at East London one of the Penderennis Castle's life-boats was fully loaded with 99 persons—the number the boat is authorised to carry. Captain R. A. D. Cambridge writes: "Several of the female staff took part in this exercise which gave passengers and ship's company an idea of what a fully-loaded life-boat looked like and how it manoeuvred"
