

ANOTHER NEW CADET UNIT

Their first voyage was but five days off but for these Cadets on Clan Malcolm there was a respite from duty early in August when, with their parents, they were entertained by Captain and Mrs. Spiller to a tea-party on board ship at Liverpool

Calling

Cadets

B. S. Barnes, T. P. Cadman, T. M. Dobson, R. A. Hughes, P. J. McEntee, J. O. Penston, H. E. A. Wakefield, R. W. Webster, K. Wylie (Junior Electricians); Mr. D. P. Haines (Second Refrigerating Engineer); Messrs. R. G. James, J. A. May, R. Thompkins (Third Refrigerating Engineer); Mr. T. J. K. Dunlop (Purser's Clerk); Messrs. S. F. Hamlyn, P. J. Hoffman, N. J. Nussey, T. M. Power, P. G. Stogdale, (Junior Catering Officers); Mr. H. M. Hill (Assistant Purser/Chief Steward).

Cadet Successes

End-of-term awards came the way of 7 new Cadets—congratulations to these young men whose careers have been launched on such an encouraging note:—

T. J. Gunner, now serving in Kinnaird Castle, won the Shaw Savill and Albion Prize at H.M.S. Worcester for being First in Academic Studies in the Upper 1st Nautical Form.

D. T. King was awarded the B. & C. prize binoculars for being the best all-round Cadet at Grimsby College of Technology. Cadet King is now serving on the Clan Menzies.

Three Cadets taking the O.N.D. Course Phase 1 at Plymouth School of Navigation gained recognition of their work:—

R. A. Hunter, now serving in Clan Malcolm, won the Houlder Brothers Prize for Navigation and Chartwork, the P.S.N.C. Prize for Ship Knowledge and School's Prize for Top Cadet in form.

L. W. Roberts, now serving in Southampton Castle, won the Cayzer Irvine Prize for Leadership.

B. J. Stockley, now serving in Clan Malcolm, won the Plymouth Corporation Prize for Best Cadet of Year.

Sir Nicholas Cayzer presented the awards at the Speech Day and Prize-Giving of the School of Navigation, Warsash. Two of the Company's Engineer/Cadets were among the successful recipients:—

T. F. Hyde received a copy of Admiral Barjot Jean Savant's History of the World's Shipping for "The Cadet writing the best thesis."

M. D. Malone gained the Ian Wallace-Bateman Memorial Award presented to "the Senior Leading Cadet who has carried out his duties most satisfactorily."

Working for the Duke of Edinburgh's Silver Award while at Stow College of Engineering are three B. & C. Cadets—Tom Peebles, Tony Fountain and Leslie Hibberd. Varied pursuits are tackled by the boys, no small undertaking being an expedition in the Loch Lomondside hills

