

CLANSMAN goes quarterly under new joint editors

This issue of CLANSMAN is the last under the editorship of Marcus Clarke. A professional journalist of considerable experience, Marcus was appointed B&C's consultant editor in 1968 and presided over the change from the old B&C Review to CLANSMAN.

As Marcus relinquishes editorial responsibility I would like to take the opportunity of expressing our warm thanks for his valued contribution in broadening the coverage and assuring the continuity of B&C house magazines.

Marcus retains his special interests in the field of trade publishing, notably editorial representation of American and French travel journals and editorship of travel manuals for the London publisher Maclean-Hunter Ltd. We wish him success in his future activities.

Publication of CLANSMAN will become quarterly in 1977 under the editorship of June Foster and Jane Whigham of our public relations department. Jane and June are based at Cayzer House and will always be pleased to hear your news and views. I hope you will continue to give them your cooperation in producing our house magazine.

Anthony Cayzer

■ Marcus Clarke.

■ June Foster.

■ Jane Whigham.

Clues down

- 1 Very softly pules and is pliant (6)
- 2 Essence of essential qualities of a thing (6)
- 3 As viscous as an over-enthusiastic conductor? (6)
- 4 Clearly proving vine detail (10)
- 6 Speedy dismissal of message (8)
- 7 Eloquent female speaker (8)
- 8 Unwooded (8)
- 13 A military prison for tender plants? (10)
- 15 I get data upset (8)
- 16 Withdrawing from fellowship or association (8)
- 17 Bloodshed in upward nuts for a ganoid fish (8)
- 19 Winding like the thread of a screw (6)
- 20 Sounds like a noisy meal (6)
- 21 Serge's exit (6)

Clues across

- 1 Left, threatening evil (8)
- 5 Dexterous nothing in a pile of dirt (6)
- 9 Pulmonary consumption (of this ship?) (8)
- 10 Three points round sacking landed property (6)
- 11 Small arboreal lory playing a kite role (8)
- 12 Hardy's partner (6)
- 14 Regardless of expense (2, 3, 5)
- 18 Many have fought for this worthy reason (5, 5)
- 22 Speculative doctrine (6)
- 23 Information laid against purchase of goods (8)
- 24 Right as a this is perfectly fit for a three legged support (6)
- 25 Shoot further not within a class (8)
- 26 Sea-cow breaks up a gun-dog (6)
- 27 Rescaled states (8)

(For solution, see page 27)

CLANSMAN CROSSWORD by Malcolm Smith

